

place is a real estate office run by Mr. Louis Lustig and that the following persons also have office space there. Berko and Berko, lawyers, and E.A. Weiss Insurance. Up to the writing of this report I have not succeeded in getting much information, but if my recollection serves me well a Mr. Berko at one time was connected in some capacity with some Hungarian newspaper in the vicinity of 14th Street.

Continued my search trying to locate Romeyn P. Benjamin and Merle McAllister but was unable to get any information as to their whereabouts.

With reference to the looking up of Jane Gibson's record in New York City during 1895 or 1896, I might say that I have this under way.

I also secured the following information concerning Phillip Payne:-that he was fired by the Daily News. The reason for this I am told is that he is quite a drinking man and in the habit of carousing around with many girls, and one time he entered the broadcasting station of W.H.N., and the announcer Mr. Grantner or Mr. Grantan announced his coming in in company with some girls and through some way or the other Mr. Patterson the owner of the paper came from Chicago and did not approve of Payne's going out skylarking in the vicinity of 47th Street and Broadway and hanging out with a bunch of girls and getting drunk for this reason he was discharged. I am further informed that if this case falls through the people that started this investigation will all be looking for new jobs. Further that the Mirror is not receiving the full support of its allied newspapers.

I also turned over to Mr. Palzer a letter written by Mr. Cohen of the Fashion Dress Company under the date of Sept. 7, 1922 requesting that Mrs. Russell call for work in New York City. This letter was sent special delivery. I further gave Mr. Palzer a slip of paper with Mrs. Gibson's telephone number which Mrs. Russell claims was given to her by Wittaker or the Easton boy who lived in the Gibson house. Her reason for giving this was to give it where she worked so that if they needed her in a hurry they could call her on Mrs. Gibson's telephone. When
